Programmi versioon / Program version — 11. mai 2018. a.

Eesmärgid | Why we do it:

Tulevase teadlaspõlvkonna ja ühiskonna sidususe suurendamine.
Treenida doktorante esitama oma tööd 'lihtsurelikele-arusaadavas-keeles'
Populariseerida oma tööd, eriala ja teadust laiemalt tavakuulajale:

- kõitvalt
- arusaadavalt
- lühidalt
- atraktiivselt

Vormiks on:

1. eeltoodust lähtuvad doktorantide lühiettekanded oma tööst ja erialast ning
2. arutelud esituste arusaadavuse, kõitvuse ja atraktiivsuse teemal.

Kuulajaskonnaks ja hindajateks on teised doktorandid ja teadurid LT erialadelt, meedia, gümnaasiumiõpilaste absoluutne paremik loodusteaduslikel erialadel.

Suulise ettekande ajalimiit on 10 min (+ 10 min tagasiside, arutelu, küsimused).

Kogu üritus on kakskeelne.

To bridge the gap between next generation of scientists and the society.

Training, training, training — to communicate your research to 'mere mortals'

Public outreach, bring your research, your topic, and science in general closer to society and common people:

- absorbingly
- comprehensibly
- concisely
- irresistibly

How we do it:

1. short student talks about their PhD project
2. feedback on conciseness, comprehension, attractiveness

The audience and evaluators are other science and technology PhD students, public media, and high-school students, who are at the absolute top in science and technology.

Talks are 10 min (+ 10 min for feedback).

Language of your choice: English or Estonian

Präaüikud | Awards:

Parematele esinejatele on auhindadeks sülearvutid.

Eesmärgikohast paremust hindab osalejatest moodustatud komitee. Kes hindab (i) arusaadavust, (ii) huvtavust, (iii) artistlikkust

The best talks will be awarded laptop computers.

The ranking will be done by a committee quasi-randomly picked from the audience. We evaluate (i) how comprehensible (ii) how interesting (iii) artistic skills
